Eban Agrees To Meet Dag In New Talks

Israel Ambassador Confers With Dulles For Hour And Half

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban, seeking a way out of the troops-in-Sinai deadlock, agreed today that Eban should hold new talks with Dag Hammarskjold at the United Nations.

Eban rushed back to Washington this morning to confer with Dulles after meeting yesterday in New York City with Hammarskjold, the U. N. secretary general. The hastily scheduled Dulles-Eban meeting lasted an hour and a half.

Developments Behind Decision

The decision that Eban should return to New York came after the ambassador was reported to have told Dulles that:

1. Eban found Hammarskjold unmoved by his arguments on behalf of a formula agreed to last Sunday by Dulles and Eban for withdrawing Israeli troops from two disputed areas without U. N. sanctions.

2. Negotiations with Hammarskjold so far offer little hope and Hammarskjold's attitude makes it difficult to continue.

3. Hammarskjold is insisting that any U. N. forces stationed in the Gaza Strip must act merely as a transmission belt for control, which they would pass on from withdrawing Israelis to returning Egyptians. The Israelis are determined not to hand Gaza back to the Egyptians, saying the strip has been a base for Arab commando raids against Israel.

4. Hammarskjold feels any U. N. forces in Sharm el Sheikh, which controls access to the Gulf of Aqaba, could not be used to prevent Egypt from re-imposing a blockade against Israeli shipping. The Israelis want firm assurances of free passage through the gulf.

The U. S. Navy, meanwhile, was showing the American flag in the troubled area. The U. S. destroyers Daly and Cotten put in at the Ethiopian port of Massawa on the African coast of the Red Sea. Stated object: refueling.

Trolley Jumps Track; 18 Hurt

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26 (AP)—A streetcar loaded with rush-hour passengers went off the tracks, hit an automobile and rammed into a bakery shop here today. At least 18 persons were injured.

The streetcar jumped the tracks as it went through a switch, a Los Angeles Transit Lines agent, R. D. Mann, said.

It crashed into a car occupied by five persons, snapped off a fire hydrant and shattered the front and interior of a frame building housing the bakery at Vernon and Hoover streets.

Policeman A. J. Johnson said the five persons in the car and Mrs. George J. Johnson, wife of the bakery proprietor, "were hurt pretty bad."

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26 (AP)—One man was killed and 26 persons were injured today when a crowded Municipal Railway bus hit a streetcar and then a power pole.

A crowded inbound bus hit a streetcar which was coming from the carbars.

Then it shot across the street and hit a steel pole.

Frank W. Casebolt, 53, a car cleaner, was killed.

No Belgrade Visit

BELGRADE, Feb. 26 (AP)—Playwright Arthur Miller and his wife, Marilyn Monroe, have informed the Belgrade Dramatic Theater they are unable to visit Yugoslavia.

The Belgrade theater invited the Millers to attend performances of four Miller plays here.

Violence In Milk Strike

George Gage, seeking to deliver milk to the Holland Patent (N. Y.) Farmers' Cooperative, beats off pickets from the rear of his truck while others swarm up the side of the vehicle to reach milk cans. Pickets who got to milk cans tilted them over and spilled milk which flows on the ground below. Thousands of tons of milk were dumped in the price strike by a small group of dairymen. (AP Photofax)

GOP Leaders See Enactment Of Rights Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) expressed confidence today the Senate will vote for civil rights legislation, perhaps before the Easter recess.

He made the prediction at the White House in face of the certainty of a Southern filibuster due to begin whenever such legislation should hit the Senate floor.

Knowland, minority leader in the Senate, and Rep. Joseph W. Martin, (R-Mass), minority leader in the House, both discussed the civil rights situation with reporters after their weekly legislative conference with President Eisenhower.

House Passage Forecast

Martin said the legislation should be ready for the House about March 15 and "we'll pass it—it will take about two days." As he spoke, a House Judiciary subcommittee was holding its last scheduled day of civil rights hearings, taking another round of opposition testimony from Southern witnesses.

Knowland expressed hope the Senate would vote before Congress recesses for Easter, Thursday, April 18.

A Senate Judiciary subcommittee has voted to end its hearings on the legislation March 5. However, Sen. Ervin (D-NC) has announced he will press for further hearings before the full committee, headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.).

Critics Seek To Delay Vote

Southern critics of the proposed new laws are trying to delay a Senate vote: backers are trying to speed one up. Last year the House passed a bill patterned after Eisenhower administration proposals, but so late in the session that the Senate didn't act.

The Eisenhower program calls for a federal commission to investigate civil rights complaints, a new division in the Justice Department to handle civil rights matters, authority for the attorney general to get court injunctions to prevent violations, and provisions for civil rights damage suits.

President, Mollet Discuss Tense Mideast Situation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower and French Premier Guy Mollet strove today to find a way to get Israeli forces out of Egypt without United Nations imposition of sanctions against Israel.

The President and Mollet, opening two days of talks designed to repair French-American relations, met privately for an hour this morning.

Then they were joined by Secretary of State Dulles, France's foreign minister, Christian Pineau, and a group of top advisers representing both governments.

After that session, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty reported that the tense Middle East situation came in for close attention. It also was a topic at a stag luncheon Eisenhower gave

One Marine Guilty, Another Innocent Of Maltreatment

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., Feb. 26 (AP)—Separate courts-martial on this Marine training base today found one drill instructor innocent of maltreating recruits and another guilty of maltreatment and violation of orders.

A five-member special court deliberated a little more than two hours before returning a verdict of innocent in the trial of S. Sgt. William E. Rich, Canton, N. C., a husky career veteran with a thunderous voice inside or outside the court room.

Simultaneously, on another part of the sprawling base, a summary court-martial found Sgt. Clinton L. Jones, Pensacola, Fla., guilty of maltreating a recruit and violating a lawful order.

Rich Guilty Of Assault

The special court, however, found Rich guilty on one charge of assault when he unlawfully seized Pvt. Kenneth A. Benjamin, New York City by the shoulder. The finding resulted in a verdict of assault "consumed by a battery." For this, Rich was reduced in rank one grade to sergeant. He also was fined $50 a month for three months.

Jones was reduced in rank to private first class, ordered confined in the brig for 30 days and fined $50.

Reporters learned of Jones' trial hours after it had been held at an undisclosed point on the base. There had been no announcement of the fact Jones' trial was under way from the Marines public information officer, Capt. James F. Mahoney. Mahoney claimed he had no foreknowledge that it was under way.

Jones Trial "Moved Up"

The Jones trial, according to previous announcement, had been scheduled for "later in the week." A summary court is the equivalent, under the military code of justice, to a justice of the peace court.

Mahoney said he did not know the nature of the charges on which Jones was convicted, nor did he know the name of the recruit or recruits involved.

Rich, 23, a Korean combat veteran, had been accused of striking three recruits and choking a fourth. He was found innocent of each of these charges.

Seventh Turncoat Leaves Red China

HONG KONG, Wednesday, Feb. 27 (AP)—Samuel David Hawkins, Korean War turncoat from Oklahoma City, crossed the Red Chinese border and arrived in Hong Kong today.

He is the seventh to return of the U. S. soldiers who turned their backs on the United States and remained with the Communists after the Korean armistice in 1953. Authorities here had been advised he began his trip out of Communist China Monday, leaving behind in Peiping the Russian wife he married while behind the Bamboo Curtain.

Hawkins was one of 21 U. S. soldiers captured in the Korean War who refused repatriation. He went to Peiping, capital of Red China, and studied at Peiping University.

Later he took a job as a driver mechanic. Hawkins' departure left 13 U. S. turncoats still in Communist China. Six returned to the United States earlier and one died in China.

Saud Calls For Arab Crackdown On Reds

CAIRO, Feb. 26 (AP)—King Saud is trying to persuade Arab leaders at their four-power "summit" conference here to clamp down on Communists in their own countries while declining alignment with either East or West in foreign affairs, informed sources said today.

The argument the Saudi Arabian leader is using for such a policy in his talks with Jordan's King Hussein, Syrian President Shukri Kuwaty and Egyptian President Nasser is that it will satisfy Arab nationalist desires for neutralism, while showing good will to the West.

The quartet of Arab chieftains had been scheduled to hold its third meeting, possibly the last of the conference, tonight, but the meeting was postponed until tomorrow morning. No reason was given for the change. But it was understood subcommittees met to draft the conference communique.

Surprised Thug

BALTIMORE, Feb. 26 (AP)—Boleslaw Cwalina, 78-year-old confectionery store owner, was hit on the head with an iron bar today when he turned his back on a young Negro who asked for a pack of cigarettes.

But to the thug's surprise, Cwalina didn't crumple to the floor. Instead, he grabbed the bar which his attacker had dropped and chased him out of the store.

Cwalina later was treated for a head gash.

Guard, Army Settle Dispute Over Training

Six-Month Active Duty Requirement Delayed To Jan. 1

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—The squabble that saw Secretary of Defense Wilson aim his "draft-dodging" barb at some National Guardsmen was settled today. All sides agreed on a compromise training program.

The Army and the National Guard Assn. reached "full agreement" on postponing until Jan. 1 the Army's plan to require six months of active duty training of new Guard recruits below the draft age of 18½.

Wilson promptly authorized the Army to revise its plans along this line.

Adding its approval was a House Armed Services subcommittee headed by Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La.). The subcommittee helped smooth over the controversy which reached a peak last month when Wilson declared that some men enlisted in the Guard during the Korean War to escape the draft.

Committee OK Expected

The full Armed Services Committee is expected to approve the compromise at its next meeting, probably next week. No new legislation is required to put the program into effect.

The Air National Guard's present 11-week training program would not be affected.

Under the new plan, the National Guard would be able during the rest of this year to recruit youths 17 to 18½ with the understanding they would take only 11 weeks of active duty training. But the recruits would have to sign up in time to complete the training by Jan. 1.

All Alike After Jan. 1

Older recruits would take the full six months of training, as would all recruits after Jan. 1.

The Army wanted to impose the six-month training program effective April 1, 1957. The Pentagon argued the Guard was under-trained.

This move prompted immediate protests from the National Guard Assn., chief spokesman for the state-controlled militia groups. The association said the Guard's recruiting program would be wrecked and the organization would fall well below its present strength of about 405,000.

Syria Decrees Death For 12 In Revolt Plot

DAMASCUS, Syria, Feb. 26 (AP)—A Syrian military court today sentenced 11 Syrians and a Lebanese to death before a firing squad on charges of plotting with Baghdad Pact nations to overthrow Syria's government.

Thirty other defendants drew prison terms ranging from three months to life. Five were acquitted.

Of the 47 persons named, however, only 29 were in custody and subject to the court's findings. The others, in refuge abroad, were tried in absentia. One of the defendants in absentia, a former Syrian army major named Ghasan Jedid, was shot to death a week ago in Lebanon.

All were accused of planning to assassinate President Shukri Kuwaty; Col. Abdul Hamid Serraj, chief of army intelligence, and Socialist and Communist leaders, with the aim of eliminating leftist elements from the government.

Serraj is regarded as the behind-the-scenes strong man in Syria. The present regime, receiving substantial arms aid from the Russians, has exhibited definite pro-Soviet tendencies. The Communist party, though officially outlawed in Syria, has risen sharply in influence under the present government.)

Two Killed In Blast, Fire At Drug Store

DELAND, Fla., Feb. 26 (AP)—An explosion and flash fire at a Deland drug store killed two men and burned two others seriously today.

The blast and fire, following use of an acetylene torch to weld air-conditioning equipment, trapped seven men in a 4 by 10-foot prescription room.

Dead are Frank R. Newell, 62, pharmacist for McIra's Drug Store; and Preston Cockey, 40, St. Petersburg, field engineer for an Orlando refrigeration firm.

Witnesses Link Teamster Union With Gamblers

PROBE WITNESS — James Elkins, self-styled Portland, Ore., gambling operator, appears as a witness before a special Senate committee. Senate Works Overtime On Ike Resolution

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Middle East debate rolled on in the Senate today, bringing fresh attacks on administration policy and an order for night sessions until the issue is brought to a vote.

Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex.) said the Senate will also meet on Saturday to speed up action on the Middle East resolution, which he emphasized was "an important matter."

Hopes for a final vote this week have virtually disappeared. As revised by Senate committees, the resolution would extend substantial military and economic assistance to Middle Eastern nations and also declare the readiness of the United States to use its own armed forces against any Communist aggression in the area.

Debate Curb Blocked

Sens. Malone (R - Nev) and Morse (D-Ore.) today blocked a move by Johnson and Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader, to limit debate on the resolution and hurry up a vote.

Knowland said the position taken by Morse and Malone "throws into some doubt" the question of when the Senate will reach a vote.

Knowland reported President Eisenhower has not shown any "displeasure" over the delays encountered in the Senate but that he is still anxious to get action as soon as possible. The House passed the resolution in a somewhat different form last month.

Johnson Blasts Policy Sen. Olin Johnston (D - SC) blasted the administration's foreign policy today as "bankrupt in its principles and purposes."

He told the Senate he was bitterly opposed to the resolution, which he said would give this country "sole responsibility for policing the entire world."

Johnston said the President helped create a vacuum in the Mideast "by pulling out the forces of England, France and Israel."

B. P. Schulberg Dies

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 26 (AP)—B. P. Schulberg, 56, retired motion picture producer and father of novelist Budd Schulberg, died today.

Yugoslav Official Assails Russia, Stalinism Revival

BELGRADE, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Yugoslav government today accused the Soviet Union of trying to discredit and isolate Yugoslavia.

Foreign Minister Koca Popovic delivered the attack in a major address to the Yugoslav Parliament. It was regarded here as a significant departure from defensive tactics.

He blamed the Soviet Union for what he said were worse relations between the two countries and asailed revivals of Stalinism. His surprise statement asserted "Stalinism has done more evil to socialism than all imperialist actions together."

Popovic contended that no country should head the Communist

Senators Told Of Big Loans To Gamesters

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Witnesses at a Senate inquiry today linked the Teamsters Union with gambling and gamblers in Seattle and Spokane, Wash., and organized vice in Portland, Ore.

One witness swore that Local 690 of the union in Spokane loaned more than $50,000 to saloon keepers and gamblers in the two Washington cities.

Another testified that Dist. Atty. William M. Langley of Portland told him after a successful primary campaign that Langley and his family were going to take a vacation in California and "the teamsters are going to pay for it."

The first day of what Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) promised will be a "stupendous" investigation of gangster infiltration of labor unions also produced evidence that the Teamsters Union paid for airplane trips of a Spokane gambler, a race horse trainer and a jockey.

Two Invoke 5th Amendment

Two of the witnesses invoked the Fifth Amendment when questioned about their connections with the union, pleading that to answer might tend to incriminate them.

James Elkins, a self-styled Portland gambling operator, told the senators he received a promise of protection from Langley after helping to arrange for secret support of Langley by the Teamsters Union in the 1954 election campaign.

Elkins said that later he suspected he was being double-crossed.

The testimony about the loans from Local 690 came from Albert J. Ruhl, the local's veteran secretary-treasurer. Ruhl reluctantly conceded he was afraid of retaliation from Dave Beck, boss of the 1½ million member union, because of his disclosures.

Ruhl was followed to the stand by Thomas E. Maloney, who refused to state whether he bought into a Spokane drinking and gambling establishment with money borrowed from Local 690.

Maloney also refused to say whether he ever paid money out of his enterprises to Frank W. Brewster, head of the 11-state Western Conference of Teamsters.

Union Paid For Plane Trips

The committee placed in evidence an affidavit by Rita Marie Prash, Seattle, identified as Brewster's former private secretary. She said that airplane tickets for trips by Maloney between Seattle and Spokane were charged to the Teamsters Union at Brewster's direction.

She also said that on a few occasions airplane trips by "Mel Eisen, a race horse trainer," and "Richard Cavallero, a race horse jockey," were charged to the Western Conference on Brewster's instructions.

The second witness to invoke the Fifth Amendment was James E. McLaughlin, identified by the committee as a Seattle gambler.

McLaughlin acknowledged knowing Brewster but he refused to say whether he had gone to Portland to participate "in taking over vice down there" or whether the teamsters paid his expenses to Portland.

The witness said he was under eight or nine indictments in Portland on gambling conspiracy charges.

Proposal May Be Submitted To U.N. Today

Resolution Sought To Avoid Imposing Israeli Sanctions

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 26 (AP)—The United States is working on a Middle East proposal designed to get Israeli forces out of Egypt and the Gaza Strip without imposing sanctions on Israel.

This was disclosed by American delegation sources as the General Assembly plunged into critical debate on the Israeli-Egyptian crisis. The United States hopes to have its resolution ready tomorrow, Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge may speak then.

Lodge conferred today with a number of delegates, including Lester B. Pearson of Canada and V. K. Krishna Menon, India's roving Cabinet minister.

American sources said Lodge is trying to work out a proposal not so drastic as a resolution put up by six Asian-African countries last week. This Asian-African resolution calls for punishment (sanctions) of Israel for not withdrawing.

U. S. View Two-Fold

Lodge was represented as attempting to find a resolution that will get a two-thirds majority in the Assembly and will be in harmony with the U. S. position. The American view was said to be two-fold—to obtain immediate withdrawal of Israel and to bring about conditions that will insure no return to the previous situation.

The U. S. resolution is likely to include a number of ideas advanced by Pearson. It will not mention sanctions in the drastic way the Asian-African resolution did. There was no indication just how it will try to meet the views of those who demand penalties on Israel.

Pearson presented what he called a constructive compromise, and drew immediate criticism from the Soviet Union and Syria. They called it pro-Israel.

Pearson's Proposal Pearson presented his proposal as the Assembly went through another round of somewhat inconclusive debate on the Middle East crisis. The four points were:

1. Israel and Egypt should make a formal pledge to observe scrupulously all the provisions of the 1949 armistice agreement.

2. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the U. N. Emergency Force which was created out of a proposal by Pearson last fall, should arrange with Egypt and Israel to deploy U. N. forces along the armistice line.

3. It should be agreed and affirmed that there should be no interference with innocent passage or any assertion of belligerent rights in the Straits of Tiran or the Gulf of Aqaba.

4. U. N. Emergency Force should be used in the Gaza Strip and a U. N. Administration, to be arranged for by a U. N. commissioner for Gaza, should gradually replace the Israeli civil administration in the Strip.

5 Slain As Arab Soldiers Battle Egyptian Police

CAIRO, Feb. 26 (AP)—About 500 Palestine Arab soldiers, embittered veterans from Gaza who want to fight the Israelis again, battled Egyptian police at suburban Maadi today in a vain quest for arms and ammunition.

Witnesses said five of the Palestinians were killed, several wounded and more than 20 arrested before their raid on the Maadi police station collapsed under a counterattack of the officers who were reinforced quickly by 100 military police.

One report said the raiders shouted slogans against President Nasser as they attacked, but this could not be confirmed. Their main cry was for arms.

The police clamped a tight lid of secrecy on the incident and said only that "the trial will be secret." They confiscated film of a photographer for the newspaper Al Shaap.

A rumor of a similar outbreak in another Cairo suburb, Heliopolis, appeared unfounded.

Prelude To Eruption?

CATANIA, Sicily, Feb. 26 (AP)—Mt. Etna belched out smoke and flames tonight in what experts said is the prelude to a new eruption.

The 10,000-foot volcano has been rumbling and smoking for the last three weeks, but without threatening a major eruption.

Violence Increases In Milk Price Strike

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—A two-day price strike by a small group of dairymen grew in violence today in the tri-state area that supplies New York City. Thousands of tons of milk were dumped.

New York and New Jersey ordered out extra state police to check the gunfire, fist fighting, dynamiting and milk contamination that marked the strike.

There were a number of arrests, but no serious injuries.

Meanwhile, New York housewives encountered no difficulty in buying milk. Ten million quarts a day are brought into the city and the strike cut off less than five per cent of the flow.

New York gets its milk from dairy centers upstate and in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Only an estimated 3,500 out of 45,000 dairymen in the area were officially on strike. Forty-eight of the areas' 381 milk collection depots were affected.

The Rev. John W. Dorney, executive secretary of the striking Tri-State Master Dairy Farmers Guild, predicted the strike eventually will involve 25,000 dairy farmers. But other dairy organizations ridiculed his claim.

"All responsible dairy farmer organizations in this milkshed are opposed to this strike," said the Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives in Syracuse, N. Y.

The minimum milk price set by federal and state overseers in the New York milkshed is currently $4.57 per hundredweight, or 46.5 cents per quart for the dairyman. This figure is out to about 9.8 cents per quart for the dairyman.

The strikers claim it costs them 12.2 cents to produce a quart of milk. They are demanding $5.75 per hundredweight, or about 12.4 cents a quart.

Milk sells retail in New York City for about 24 or 25 cents per quart. Processing and distribution costs increase the original farm price.

Meanwhile, 10,500 dairy farmers in southeastern Michigan threatened a milk strike unless a price agreement can be reached there.

Michigan producers are willing to take a price cut to meet out-of-state competition, but not as much of a cut as distributors are demanding.

Trio Held In Theft Of Gems From Car

HAGERSTOWN, Feb. 26 (AP)—A young man and two teen-agers accused of taking more than $13,000 in jewelry and securities from a parked car were held today for action of the grand jury.

Held in $5,000 bond each after waiving a preliminary hearing before Magistrate William P. Kreyenbohm were Clifford D. Carroll Jr., 25, of Williamsport, and Donald P. Drury, 18 and Lynn E. Jordan, both of Keedysville.

They are accused of taking the valuables from the unlocked car of Mrs. Florence Savitt Rose, 47, last Wednesday—her wedding day. Mrs. Rose, a former jewelry saleswoman, said there was more than $10,000 worth of jewelry—mostly diamond rings—in a strong box in her car. Police said all but a few pieces of jewelry valued at a couple hundred dollars have been recovered.

W. Va. Senate Passes Road Bill, 30 To 0

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 26 (AP)—The Senate, appearing to pick up momentum near the end of today's session, passed a sweeping road reorganization measure 30-0 and its version of a salary increase for state appointive officials.

The Senate, as another highlight of a busy session lasting almost two hours, set as a special order of business for tomorrow consideration of Gov. Underwood's veto of the Civil Service Act.

After the session, Senate President Bean (D-Hardy) told newsmen he would recommend that consideration of the veto be still further delayed to Thursday afternoon.

Senate Democrats went into a caucus immediately after today's session and President Bean made it clear that consideration of the veto would come during the secret meeting.

It also was understood, however, that further postponement of floor consideration was a possibility. The Democratic majority presented an unbroken front when the Senate passed the bill originally over United Republican opposition.

Gov. Cecil Underwood vetoed the bill Saturday and it was placed on the Senate's unfinished business calendar today. The measure was designed to extend merit system rules covering five State agencies to most other State employees.

The Senate went back to a straight 20-1 party-line vote in passing the salary bill covering about 30 appointive officials and members of state boards and commissions.

As amended by the Senate, the House-approved measure would generally provide 15 per cent increases. The proposed new salaries run from $1,000 to $3,000 below those as passed by the House.

The voluminous bill to reorganize the State Road Commission would retain the present arrangement of a commissioner appointed by the governor for a four-year term, but would set up an advisory commission named by the governor—for overlapping seven-year terms.

Prince Philip Spikes Rumors

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Duke of Edinburgh, in his first official appearance as Prince Philip, said today that it was business that kept him away from home and Queen Elizabeth II for long periods.

The deeply tanned husband of the Queen just back from a 20-week world tour of British Commonwealth countries, obviously was spiking rumors that a rift had separated the royal couple.

"It would be quite easy to claim that this journey was all part of a deep-laid scheme," he told a "welcome home" luncheon given by the Lord Mayor of London.

"But I am afraid I have to admit that it all came about because I was asked to start off the Olympic Games in Melbourne."

He visited dozens of small towns, many on remote islands, during his 35,000-mile tour. Most of the journey was made aboard the royal yacht Britannia.

"In fact," the handsome Prince Philip said, "it would have been much simpler to have flown out and flown back. But if I had done that I could not have visited several remote communities."

SRC Head Urges Support Of Road Sign Curb Bill

BALTIMORE, Feb. 26 (AP)—Chairman Robert O. Bonnell of the State Roads Commission today called for public support of a bill before the Legislature to ban advertising signs along Maryland's new controlled access highways.

Bonnell described House Bill 512 as "an extremely modest approach to roadside control—but it is an approach."

The bill would prevent the erection of advertising signs within 500 feet of the state's right-of-way on new dual highways of the limited and controlled access type. It would apply to such highways as the Baltimore-Washington Expressway, the Washington National Pike, the Harrisburg Expressway and the new Blue Star Memorial Highway across the upper Eastern Shore.

Here are some of the plus and minus developments of 1956 as reported in the department's annual review issue of "Survey of Current Business":

The nation's basic business barometer, gross national product, was 412 billion dollars, up 21 billion over 1955. But about half of this gain was accounted for by higher prices. The 2½ per cent rise in real output was off sharply from the 7 per cent increase the year before.

Gross national product (GNP) is the total value of all goods produced and services rendered. At year's end, the GNP had reached an annual rate of 424 billion dollars.

The department noted that much of the last quarter gain followed an upswing in automotive inventories as the industry turned to 1957 models. And again it pointed out that the gain "to a considerable degree" reflected higher prices.

Employment was up by 1,800,000 to a yearly average of 65 million.

Brennan said he could think of no more "vital objective" than the exposure of subversives by congressional investigating committees.

The justice gave his views under questioning by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), who is opposing his nomination and evidently wasn't much impressed by Brennan's testimony.

It was the first time this century that a sitting Supreme Court justice has been questioned about his qualifications.

Brennan is serving on the high tribunal under a recess appointment given him by President Eisenhower. McCarthy conceded his battle to prevent Senate confirmation is a losing one.

FBI Seizes Bank Robbery Suspect

YORK, Pa., Feb. 26 (AP)—FBI agents today arrested a New Oxford, Pa., man in a rooming house here and charged him with robbery of the Union Mills, Md., branch of the Westminster Trust Co.

Carl Henrichs, special agent in charge of the Philadelphia office of the FBI, identified the man as James Clarence Rohrer, 34, father of three children.

Henrichs said Rohrer was accused of being one of two masked men who held up the Maryland bank on Feb. 5 and escaped with $7,010. The agent said Rohrer had $112 in his possession when arrested but that no identifiable bank loot was recovered.

Higher Prices Limiting 'Real' Business Gains

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—The government took a large look at 1956 business statistics today and—with reservations—found them good.

The Commerce Department said business activity was at a sustained high rate as 1956 drew to a close. But it added that higher prices limited the gains in "real terms" and warned that prices were still going up at year's end.

Looking to 1957, the department suggested—cautiously and not as a firm forecast—that the trends established last year would continue.

Here are some of the plus and minus developments of 1956 as reported in the department's annual review issue of "Survey of Current Business":

The nation's basic business barometer, gross national product, was 412 billion dollars, up 21 billion over 1955. But about half of this gain was accounted for by higher prices. The 2½ per cent rise in real output was off sharply from the 7 per cent increase the year before.

Employment was up by 1,800,000 to a yearly average of 65 million.

Baltimore To Have DST Month Longer

BALTIMORE, Feb. 26 (AP)—Baltimore will join other major East Coast cities and observe Daylight Saving Time this year until the last Sunday in October.

The City Council unanimously approved the new schedule at its meeting last night. A similar measure is before the Legislature in Annapolis to extend Daylight Time in the counties.

Baltimore Mayor Takes Steps To Repay Salary Hikes

BALTIMORE, Feb. 26 (AP)—Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro said today he will take immediate steps to arrange repayment of $67,584 he and 48 other city officials were granted illegally in 1956.

The pay increases for the elected and appointed officials originally were questioned by Hyman Pressman, Baltimore lawyer and self-appointed watchdog of the public's interests. He filed suit.

The Maryland Court of Appeals held that the salary increases violated the State Constitution's provision against pay boosts for officials during their term of office.

Circuit Judge Reuben Oppenheimer ruled yesterday that the officials who received the pay boosts must repay the amount they received illegally.

The amounts to be repaid range from $6,321.81 which the mayor received down to $237.80 paid to William F. Hilgenberg, president of the Board of Fire Commissioners.

City Comptroller R. Walter Graham, the 49th official involved, has already repaid his salary increase, $4,540.13, which next to the mayor's was the highest amount.

The salary increases were voted by the City Council in 1956.

Each member of the 19-member council also must repay $1,454.15. In announcing he plans to arrange the repayment, Mayor D'Alesandro said he will ask the Board of Estimates to authorize refunding of the excess salary payments on a pro-rate basis.

School Cafeteria Heads Set Meeting

Allegany County cafeteria managers and head cooks will meet Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon in the Board of Education Building.

Mrs. Gladys Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias, announced yesterday.

The discussions will concern the utilization of surplus commodities into attractive menus. The main surplus foods being received from the federal government today are fresh eggs, grapefruit sections and orange concentrate.

A new recipe for other foods, western beans, will be given to the cooks and managers. It calls for a combination of baby lima beans, catsup, ground beef and onions, Mrs. Eaton said.

Land Records Office To Be Modernized

Plans are being made by the State Department of Budget and Procurement to modernize the land records office at the Court House.

William R. Carscaden, a member of the Allegany County Bar Association committee interested in the improvements, met with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to outline the proposal.

Carscaden told the board that records in the office which are used only at infrequent times should be stored in the basement at the Court House. These include old deeds, mortgages, marriage records and similar documents which are of a permanent nature and cannot be destroyed. Some date back to 1791 and are inscribed in the flowing handwriting of that period.

Two rooms which now contain some old jury benches and other unusable items are being suggested for the permanent storage space for the records now kept in antiquated cabinets in the records office.

Joseph E. Boden, clerk to Circuit Court, said two officials of the state agency were here recently to check over the layout and obtain data to be used in preparing specifications. Court House attaches estimate the new equipment, which will be supplied by the state, will cost at least $50,000.

The county commissioners would be responsible for new lighting and other changes other than the equipment. Members of the Bar Association said that during the past 10 years the volume of work has increased greatly at the Court House and documents have become so numerous that filing space is at a premium.

The Salvation Army Advisory Board met at noon Monday at the Fort Cumberland Hotel, according to Lewis J. Ort, chairman, who said 18 members were present.

Dog Control Gets Backing

A number of letters were received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners ranging from one on the dog control program to the proposed county mobile library project.

G. P. DeWitt, clerk to the Mayor and Council of Westernport, said the officials endorsed the proposed dog control program of the Allegany County Animal Welfare Society at its last meeting.

Mrs. Robert Ford, president of the Friends Aware of Handicapped Children in Westernport, wrote that last fall a fund raising drive was held and a station wagon purchased to transport children to special classes.

Mrs. Ford said that financial assistance is needed to continue operating the class for handicapped children and the county was asked for some assistance. The matter was taken under advisement.

A letter signed by A. Pauline Fisher, corresponding secretary of the local branch of the American Association of University Women, stated the organization supports the proposed mobile library system for the county.

Mrs. William Torkington, corresponding secretary of the Woman's Civic Club, wrote that the club is in favor of the proposal to change Frostburg State Teachers College to a liberal arts college.

She stated the organization was in agreement with the program which was originated by the Western Maryland Section of the American Chemical Society.

Mrs. Carrie Appold appeared before the board to apply for a permit to operate a junk yard. The matter was turned over to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, for investigation.

LaSalle High

a meeting of the Board of Trustees. Brother Felician made known the needs of the school for well equipped laboratories in order that he might put through his plans for obtaining state recognition for the high school department.

The following year, on January 9, a letter was received from Dr. M. Bates Stephens, superintendent of schools of Maryland, stating that LaSalle Institute of Cumberland was placed on the list of accredited four-year high schools of the first group in Maryland.

The Institute was moved to its present location in 1924 after Archbishop Curley approved the Brothers' using Carroll Hall as a school building. The hall was built for parish activities of St. Patrick's Church and had facilities for bowling and dancing and an auditorium.

Moved In 1924

On the opening day, September 4, 1924, some 156 boys reported for class. The classrooms for the senior and junior high were fitted up on the second floor and chemical and physical labs in the basement. Classrooms and desks for the same were repaired and repainted. The Brothers continued to live at 322 Fayette Street until October 31, when they moved to 114 Hanover Street.

During June 1925 a drive in all the Catholic parishes for $35,000 to clear the entire debt of the school was in progress and of a sum sought about $17,000 was realized in cash and pledges to be paid in three years.

Thomas Finan was chairman of the committee and was assisted by Richard F. McMullen and Thomas F. Conlon. It was in 1938 that the school officially became known as LaSalle High School instead of LaSalle Institute, and a new board named to direct the high school included Archbishop Curley, Brother Stephen and pastors of nearby churches.

Brother Paulian pointed out that the present enrollment at LaSalle is 259 students.

Improvements Made

Recently some improvements have been made to Carroll Hall. The auditorium was renovated and painted and the floor was tiled. Curtains and draperies were renewed and a public address system was installed.

Men of LaSalle and the Mothers' Club are two organizations which aid the school. On various occasions Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, has given scholarships.

Brother Paulian said the observance of the 50th anniversary is expected to be celebrated in the fall, and an appropriate program will be planned.

Prior to coming to Cumberland, Brother Paulian, who succeeded Brother Daniel Hilary FSC, was a member of the faculty at West Catholic High School for Boys in Philadelphia.

Drive Plans Are Completed By Red Cross

Final plans for the 1957 Red Cross fund and membership drive in Allegany County have been completed, according to T. J. Klauenberg, general campaign chairman.

He reported the campaign will begin next week and that an active solicitation of homes and business establishments throughout the city and county by hundreds of volunteer workers will be made to reach a fund goal of $37,000.

Klauenberg stated that the original goal was $35,000, but that the local Red Cross Chapter has been asked to increase this by $2,000 due to the heavy outlay necessary for relief during recent floods in neighboring states.

The chairman noted that several sections of the drive are now making active solicitations, including advance gifts, headed by William L. Wilson Jr.; classified section, on which Oscar H. Lashley and Edward F. Mullan Jr., are serving as co-chairmen; clubs and organizations, A. John Weber, chairman; and national firms led by C. W. Seasholtz.

The huge residential solicitation which will start next week will be headed by Mrs. M. Virginia Rosenbaum, who reports that a house-to-house call will be made to ask support of the services of the Red Cross.

County solicitation will be carried out under the direction of Wesley H. Sleeman of Mt. Savage.

Klauenberg appealed for the support of all citizens in raising the amount needed to maintain the vital local functions of first aid, blood program, home service and disaster service, as well as to help the Red Cross program of assistance to servicemen, their families and dependents.

Local Railroader Retires From Service With B&O

He is John A. Stapleton, 314 Columbia Street, who boarded the Daylight Speedliner at the Queen City Station at 1:15 p. m. for the run to Pittsburgh. He returned yesterday. Stapleton was the flagman on the passenger train.

An interesting sidelight on his railroad career is that he has been employed by three lines, all in this vicinity. Back in 1904 he started with the old C&P Railroad as a telegrapher. After a short time he became a brakeman. He stayed with the C&P until 1908 when he switched to the Western Maryland Railway as a conductor.

In 1919 he left the Western Maryland. After four years away from the railroad he entered the service of the B&O Railroad as a conductor. In 1924 he became a flagman and for the past 10 years has been in passenger service on the Pittsburgh Division.

In 1946 he was injured when he was knocked from a train in the Falls Cut Tunnel of the Sand Patch Grade above Hyndman. Just a year ago he was injured when Passenger Train No. 18 was involved in a wreck near West Newton, Pa. Stapleton was hospitalized 57 days as a result of that mishap. He suffered severe arm injuries.

Stapleton said he and his wife, the former Helen McPartland, of Lonaconing, intend to do some traveling and generally take things easy now that his railroad career is over. Stapleton is a native of Frostburg.

Mr. And Mrs. Isaac Hirsch Observe 62d Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hirsch entertained with a family dinner and received friends informally yesterday at their home, 218 Schley Street, in celebration of their 62d wedding anniversary.

The former Miss Ray Abrams, Pittsburgh, became the bride of Mr. Hirsch February 26, 1895. The wedding ceremony was solemnized in Pittsburgh with Rabbi Harry G. Mayer, Pittsburgh, and Rabbi J. L. Stern, Cumberland, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Hirsch are the parents of one son, Sumner A. Hirsch. They have one grandson, Bryan.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hirsch are in good health, but have curtailed their activities. Mrs. Hirsch formerly was active in social, civic and church affairs. She served as president of the Ladies Aid Society of B'er Chayim Congregation, as trustee of the National Council of Jewish Women and of the Sisterhood of B'er Chayim Congregation. Mrs. Hirsch was active in the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, the local Red Cross and the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Mr. Hirsch, who still spends each morning in his office, is chairman of the board of The First National Bank of Cumberland. A native of Germany, he was reared and educated in Cumberland. In 1885, he and his brother, the late Louis Hirsch, took over their father's wool and hide business.

Mr. Hirsch served as a member of the City Council in 1897, and it was through his efforts that the municipal street lighting plan was accepted; and the first dam at Lake Gordon was built. In 1910, as chairman, he drafted the charter for the city providing for the present commission form of government.

He has served as president of the Kiwanis Club, First National Bank and B'er Chayim Congregation. He has served on the Public Service Commission, the State Policy and Revenue Commission; and as director of the Public Library. He is a 32d degree Mason.

W.Va. Delegates Want Probe Of Coal Mining

Resolution Says State Land Use Is Unauthorized

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 26.—A resolution calling for an investigation into alleged unauthorized mining of coal from State property in Taylor County was introduced in the House today by Dels. Baker (R-Cabell) and Tompos (D-Hancock).

The resolution states that officials of the Industrial School for Boys at Pruntytown have complained to the House Committee on Penal and Correctional Institutions about the mining operations.

The resolution did not name any firm, but Tompos told newsmen it has reference to operations being conducted by Mason Brothers of Grafton.

The resolution said the operations are being conducted "wholly without authority from any agency of the State" and they have been continued "despite protests from officials of the West Virginia Industrial School for Boys."

Under the resolution a special joint committee of five members of each house would be created to conduct the investigation and make a final report to the 1958 Legislature.

Mason Brothers figured in the 1956 election campaign when Republicans accused the Democratic nominee for governor, Robert H. Mollohan, of using his influence while superintendent at Pruntytown several years earlier. GOP State Chairman John D. Hohlitzell Jr. said Mollohan received about $21,000 from Mason Brothers in return for securing coal stripping rights to state land.

Mollohan denied that he was in the pay of the company while he was superintendent. He said he worked for the company after he quit his post at the school.

Big Apple Goes Up
The big red apple sign has gone up over the door of the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester, Va., headquarters here, signifying that apple blossom time is not far off. Helping to freshen up the sign for the 1957 Festival, May 2, 3, are these three pretty misses, daughters of two members of the Festival Board of Directors. Left to right, are Elizabeth Riley, Evelyn Riley and Linda Nelson. All three girls are students at the city's Handley High School and will have roles in the Pageant of Springtime, to be seen on both days.

Miss Taschenberg and Miss Tuya were informed of their awards yesterday.

Area Men Tried In Theft Cases

SOMERSET, Pa. — Three area men were given hearings on larceny charges in Somerset (Pa.) Circuit Court last week.

The trio, George Brabson, Grantsville, and Russell E. Sell and John E. Sutton, both of Meyersdale, were charged with a series of copper wire thefts in the Somerset area.

Judge Thomas F. Lansberry ordered the men to pay court costs and make restitution for the thefts.

State Police, who investigated, said the metal, with a total value of $1,650, was stolen last November and December from a Charles Merrill mine near Garrett, Pa.

PSC To Close Religious Week Tonight

Public Is Invited To Final Program

KEYSER, W. Va.—A special invitation is extended to the general public to attend the closing exercises of Potomac State College's fifth annual Religious Emphasis Week tonight at 7:30 in the college auditorium.

Main speakers will be the Rev. Dr. Francis P. Moran of the Archdiocese of Boston and the Rev. William C. Bowie, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Clarksburg.

Giving the invocation and benediction will be the Rev. Dr. John MacLeod, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Keyser. Sylvio Mayola will read from the Scripture.

The three guest speakers, including the above mentioned and Rabbi David L. Schwartz of Congregation B'nai Abraham, Hagerstown, have been appearing by two's at the morning and evening convocations. Rabbi Schwartz made his final appearance at this morning's convocation, duties at Hagerstown requiring him to depart at noon.

Students have indicated that this year's program including speakers of the three main faiths has been especially fruitful in not only stimulating their own religious convictions but in gaining an appreciation of faiths other than their own.

In addition to his lectures, Rabbi Schwartz has shown films depicting such areas of Jewish religious celebrations as the Passover.

Theme for today is "Religion and the Family."

President Grover Cleveland once hanged a man for murder when he was the sheriff of Erie county, New York, in 1870.

Senior Citizens To Name Queen

The Senior Citizens Club will meet tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the Elks Home to elect its Queen for a Day.

Candidates, who are being nominated by a committee from the club, will be chosen by the audience on the basis of stories of their lives.

Mrs. B. F. Phillips will be chairman for the contest. Gifts will be presented to the winner.

Readings and poems on Lincoln and Washington will also be presented by members. Mrs. Eva Hogan, assistant to the city recreation director, said the club continues to grow, and that three new members came in early this month. All residents of the city over 62 are eligible to become members.

Scholarship Group Honors Two Boys

Two Allegany High School seniors have been commended by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for distinguished performance in its nation-wide search for students of unusual ability, according to W. Ardell Haines, school principal.

Richard H. Love and Thomas G. Ward have been named state runners-up in the 1957 merit scholarship competition.

"These seniors are among the top one or two per cent in ability in the state," according to John M. Stalnaker, president NMSC. "While they did not quite reach the finals of the 1957 merit scholarship competition, their unusual promise deserves recognition. Indeed, we want to encourage every one of them to make a special effort to obtain the best college education possible. Both student and country will profit."

Civil Service Bill Is Slated

Senator Charles M. See announced last night he hopes to introduce the Allegany County Civil Service bill not later than Friday.

He said several clarifying amendments are being made in the bill which would place about 200 county employees under Civil Service.

The changes are being inserted in the proposed bill by the Department of Legislative Reference, the Senator said.

He added he will let the Allegany County Delegation look over the bill before it is placed in the Senate hopper.

Sen. See said the bill will cover department heads as well as workers, but not the staff of the county Tax Department, since that unit works on a percentage basis and cannot be included under current law.

State Land Week To Start Oct. 6

The week starting October 6 has been designated for the eighth annual Maryland Land Week observance, according to John Clark of Bel Air, chairman of the state Land Week committee.

Preliminary plans were made by 32 representatives of state agricultural, civic and conservation groups at a meeting last week at the University of Maryland.

Dr. T. B. Symons, former dean of agriculture and present member of the University of Maryland Board of Regents, told the group that Land Week could be the "biggest movement in the state" for bringing together town and country people for a better understanding of our conservation and development problems.

Land Week is used to focus attention on the dependence of all people in the state on natural resources and to bring about wise use and development of these resources for their aesthetic and economic values.

Emmanuel Methodist Men To Meet Today

The Methodist Men of Emmanuel Methodist Church will hold its monthly meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in the social hall of the church, according to Rev. Kenneth W. Grove, pastor.

Final plans will be made at the meeting for the oyster supper to be held at the church Friday evening. Calvin Carder is chairman.

A sound film will be shown that deals with Colonel Drake, the discoverer of oil in Western Pennsylvania. Louis Brobst and William Kreiger are hosts for the program.

25 Wheat Farmers Join Soil Bank

Some 25 Allegany County farmers have signed 1957 agreements to put wheat land in the acreage reserve of the Soil Bank, according to James H. Weimer, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The 25 agreements, all of which were signed before January 1, cover a total of 161 acres. If all farmers remain in compliance with the program they will be eligible to earn a maximum of $3,613.02.

The estate of George Washington totaled 8,000 acres.

Local 26 Will Hear Report On Contract

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. to hear a report on contract negotiations, according to James Stein, president.

He said the special meeting, to be held in the union hall, was called to report to the membership on progress in revising the contract with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, and to get recommendations for further action.

Mr. Stein said the negotiators are "making progress" on the pact, but did not elaborate. The agreement is due to expire Friday.

The Over-All View Still Looks Good

Wage earner, employer, industrialist, the person living on a pension or investments, and the many others incorporated in the American public have their own special viewpoints for evaluating the nation's prosperity. So do government economists. It should be worth noting that the Washington economists find considerable reassurance in the current leveling off that comes on the heels of a year in which Americans earned more, spent more and saved more than ever before.

Their diagnosis is that the United States is cutting down an inflationary pace toward the level of a more healthful, gradual expansion, free of the danger of bust. They believe the economy, which last year ran up the gross national product to $412 billion dollars, can chalk up another modest gain this year. Meanwhile, January brought fewer housing starts. The automobile industry still has been unable to completely reverse last year's downward turn. Some companies have modified or postponed expansion programs. Banks' business loans have been curtailed. And production, in some industries, finally has overtaken and passed demand.

With all this, government economists are optimistic, for a number of reasons. There is no apparent disposition on the part of the American people to stop spending and they have more money to use than ever before. The federal government and lesser political subdivisions are committed to bigger outlays than ever. And business still is budgeting slightly more for expansion than last year.

With the first quarter of the year past the half-way point, the prediction still is that 1957 will write new records into the economic history of the country.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Uninformed Mass Opinion

There seems to be a growing belief that opinion must be formed or informed and that the uneducated masses do not know enough to make any sense. Those who think this way have to explain how it happens that so large a part of the American population have gone to high school and some kind of college in this generation. Do they assert that in the good, old days when so few had college educations that the majority of our people were better informed than they are today? Or is this an admission of the failure of our educational institutions?

Also, the assumption that the people are so uninformed is a criticism of our newspapers, magazines, radio and television which reach more Americans than ever before. Is it not rather that most hard-headed, practical citizens find their own conclusions from the data presented to them?

Dean Edward W. Barrett of the Graduate School of Journalism at Columbia University has stated the case of the well-informed versus the uninformed better than I had ever seen it done. He said:

"I, for one, shudder at what might happen if some new mountebank, as temporarily persuasive as a Joe McCarthy, should arise and start inflaming our highly vocal but ill-informed citizens on the delicate issues that lie ahead. That is why, just as de Tocqueville feared the 'tyranny of the majority,' men like Walter Lippmann today see domination by uninformed mass opinion as a grave threat."

However, it is mass opinion, informed or uninformed, which is bound to prevail in all but totalitarian countries. The question then is whether it is necessary to change our form of government and to limit the rights of the people so that instead of uninformed mass opinion, we shall be governed by informed elite opinion. And what evidence is there to establish the assurance that the informed can also think well and competently? For instance, it is not difficult to become informed about Arab history and literature or even to learn to read and speak Arabic, Aramaic and Hebrew. But does that have any relationship to wisdom or judgment or the emotional quality of patriotism?

I am making no defense of ignorance but I must ask why even in Soviet Russia where the government need pay no attention to public opinion, informed or uninformed, they have not entrusted their government to a council of experts but rather to two roughneck politicians such as Khrushchev and Bulganin.

There is a vast hiatus between the capacity to amass information and the ability to think out problems. Such a statesman as Sir Winston Churchill is not an expert in many fields. He could hire those experts who briefed him as to the facts, but it takes judgment, imagination, prescience, wisdom to see the consequences of a political action maybe decades after the action was initiated.

Perhaps that explains why Stalin was able to increase the territory of Russia beyond the dreams of Peter the Great. Khrushchev was undoubtedly correct when he said that Stalin was a poor general and something of a coward, but Stalin fought a winning war and if Americans wish to claim that they won the war for Stalin, it can be said for him that he knew how to hornswozzle the United States into doing it and into giving him $11,000,000,000 besides.

Who is informed and who is uninformed? In the area of the world which I know best, I read the names of persons as experts whose judgment has not been as sound as that of a merchant buying handkerchiefs and underwear in Swatow. The difference between a footnote reader and one who has to deal closely with a people is that the former believes what an established name has cited as a truth, even though the established name is only quoting another established name, whereas the latter has had to learn the psychology of a people to be able to deal with them. When Michael Borodin came to China in 1924 to rule it, which he managed to do for nearly three years, he hardly knew anything about the people or the country. He knew no dialect of Chinese and spoke through an interpreter. But he was a born psychologist. Borodin had the advantage of being a revolutionist by profession in a country that wanted a revolution.

'Here's One That Fits My Hatchet'

Now It's Nasser Who Wields Stick And Carrot

WASHINGTON

On the surface, the current phase of the Middle Eastern crisis is appears to be a contest of wills between two men—Israeli's David Ben-Gurion and President Eisenhower. But the key role is being played by another man—Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Foreign policy is the art of influencing other nations to your own ends. Other nations can be influenced by judicious use of the carrot of reward and the stick of punishment. Before Secretary of State Dulles suddenly withdrew the Aswan Dam aid offer, thus precipitating the Suez Canal seizure, we had a carrot to offer Nasser but we have none now.

Before the British, French and Israelis invaded Egypt the Western powers had a stick—the threat of force. The West would still have a stick if Britain and France had not bowed to intense American pressure, halted their advance, and withdrawn without any commitment of any sort from Nasser. But we do not have a stick now, to use against Nasser.

Tables Are Turned

So now, most astutely, Nasser is using the carrot-and-stick technique on the United States, instead of the other way round. In conversations with American Ambassador Raymond Hare and other Western emissaries, Nasser has been making sweetly reasonable sounds. He has, for example, more than hinted that he would be willing to settle the canal issue by turning over canal tolls to the World Bank, to be split on a fifty-fifty basis—a very reasonable proposal.

He has indicated that he would agree to the placing of a United Nations force in the Gaza Strip. And he has even hinted—although far more obliquely—that he would graciously permit Israeli ships free passage both through the canal and through the Straits of Tiran to Aqaba, once the Israelis had withdrawn.

All this amounts to a large, juicy, and tempting carrot. But Nasser also wields his stick. There is no longer any doubt that Nasser is delaying the re-opening of the canal, on various rather transparent pretexts. The canal, he has indicated, will stay closed until the Israelis pull out of the Gaza Strip and Aqaba. And he is perfectly aware that he can now go very far in using the canal for purposes of political blackmail, without fear of the stick of force being used against him.

Nasser's carrot and stick explain in part why President Eisenhower has taken a far stronger line with Israel than anyone had expected. The President has taken big risks. His position is opposed by our Allies, by very friendly countries like Canada and Australia, and by the entire Congressional leadership. The President thus finds himself isolated as he has never been before.

Yet the carrot Nasser is offering must seem worth big risks. For Nasser is offering—or seems to be offering—at least a beginning toward a real Middle Eastern settlement, provided only that the Israelis withdraw, as the British and French withdrew, without conditions.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Reader wants to know when and where Abe Lincoln made that crack about a tyrant siphoning a drink out of the Ohio.

It was in Springfield in 1837 before Abe's beard had got a toe-hold on his chin. It was his first patriotic shill. We know no better way of closing out Abe's month than to quote it:

"All the armies of Europe, Asia and Africa combined, with all the treasure of the earth in their military chest, with a Bonaparte for a commander, could not by force take a drink from the Ohio or make a track on the Blue Ridge in a trial of a thousand years."

It was long before Abe delivered his baccalaureate at Gettysburg. But even then he could see further than a crow in January.

Remember in 1837 the Ohio was further west than a red sun.

How was Abe to know that 129 years later England would have the same difficulty in the Suez?

Making those tracks in the Blue Ridge was tougher during Prohibition days. Now the bootleggers are backing the thruways. And paying tolls like the rest of us.

Well, that's the complete quote. It would make a pretty good wall motto on a sliding panel. When Tito, Nasser or Bulganin call we could push it back into the woodwork.

Israel Averted A Long War; Adams Has Chat With Davis Winter Queen

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — On Sept. 16 last year while visiting the Near East, this writer made the following prediction: "An isolated war will break out, with the participation of England and France, but it will not develop into world war."

This prediction required no great reading of the crystal ball. It was easy to see what was coming. U. S. diplomats could see it just as well as a newspaperman.

Reason they could see it lies at the root of the present trouble between Egypt and Israel, namely almost half a billion dollars worth of Russian arms stored away as a virtual Russian base in Egypt just across the Israeli border.

The situation was almost the same as that between North Korea and South Korea in 1950. War had to come in Korea. War also had to come between Egypt and Israel—unless the United States or the United Nations had stepped in first. The cause of both was indirect Communist aggression.

Chief difference between Israel and Korea was that in Korea American intelligence was asleep and we let the Russians get the jump on us. In the Near East, Israeli intelligence was not asleep and Israel got the jump on the Russo-Egyptian combine.

Another difference was that Israel cleaned up in four days; the Korean War dragged on for two years. A final difference might have been that a long drawn-out war in the Near East probably would have dragged the United States in. The present proposed Eisenhower Doctrine is aimed at helping nations threatened with Russian aggression, and the Russian arms stored in Egypt were indirect Russian aggression.

But since Israel took the first step and in four days cleaned up what would otherwise have been a long war, the United States now finds itself in the position of being sanctimonious about hailing Israel before the bar of the United Nations.

Note—It is only thirty minutes by jet fighter from Egypt to Tel Aviv, chief city of Israel. It could have been bombed to bits by Russia's vast fleet of new MIGs sent to Egypt, before the handful of Israeli fighters could have got off the runways.

Sherman Adams' Real Love

Assistant President Sherman Adams is probably the busiest man in Washington, far busier than his boss. But he took time off the other day for a lengthy interview in his office with Miss Mary Lou Prehn, Queen of the Washington Ski Club's Winter Carnival, who had come to invite the former New Hampshire Governor to an outing at Davis, West Virginia.

"How long have you been skiing?" asked Adams.

"Since I was overseas with the Defense Department," replied Miss Prehn. "The reason I've come, Governor, is to ask you to become an honorary member of our club and to act as honorary chairman of our Winter Carnival."

"Well, I'd love to come," said Adams. "Do you mean to tell me that you've got snow down in Davis?"

"Governor," boasted Miss Prehn, "we've got lots of it."

"Well, and how is the new Republican Governor of West Virginia, Cecil Underwood, going to feel if a former Governor of the great ski state of New Hampshire comes to his ski area?" inquired Adams.

"I think it would be great to have two governors there," parried the diplomatic Miss Prehn.

Adams, who has been portrayed as a cold fish by the press, warms several degrees when the conversation concerns skiing. As a student at Dartmouth College in 1920, he was President of the Outing Club and he's been an enthusiast ever since.

"Are those automatic release bindings you have there?" Adams asked the Ski Queen, who was fully attired in skiing regalia.

"Gee, I don't know," answered Miss Prehn, obviously not as expert as the Governor. "These skis are rented."

"No," noted Adams. "Those are conventional bindings. Do you like your type of wooden skis?"

"I really don't know the difference."

"Do you know what kind I've got? I have a pair of Head skis. They're supposed to have 'built-in turns'. And I use Kandahar bindings with a front hitch."

Note — Besides the Governor himself, his wife, Rachel, son, Sam, and three daughters, Marion, Jean, and Sally, all know the difference between a skier's "Abstenn" and a German's "Abstennung." So do the Governor's two sons-in-law, Dartmouth Graduates Bill Hallager and Bill Freese.

Washington Pipeline

Ambassador Charles Bohlen has returned to Washington after four years of brilliant reporting on Soviet Russia, and has asked to be reassigned to another post. Secretary Dulles, who has never liked Bohlen, has offered him a minor post in Latin America. Being an expert on Slavic languages with no knowledge of Spanish, Bohlen will probably resign. . . . Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson, ex-Governor of Nebraska, will resign to go into private business. . . . With-out TVA's network of dams, the U. S. Weather Bureau estimates that recent floods in Tennessee would have been the worst in 74 years—22 feet above flood stage, with damage surpassing $50,000,000 in Chattanooga alone. Yet Connecticut, Pennsylvania, and California public utilities are still opposing dams unless they have control. . . . Sinclair Armstrong, chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, wears his nickname "Sinc" embroidered on his socks.

SCHOOL

How old were you on the occasion of your first day at school? I was six. I was scared. At present, some youngsters have their first day at school at the age of 3½. They attend "nursery school." Most of the kiddies attending this type of school are said to enjoy the experience. I never liked school. Even now, I frequently congratulate myself on Sunday nights because I don't have to go to school on Monday.

CASTING

So Bing Crosby is to portray Damon Runyon in a film version of the great newspaperman's life. I can't see this casting. To a film audience, Bing Crosby will always be Bing Crosby no matter who he is supposed to be portraying. I favor an unknown for the part. Then the viewers will have a feeling he really is Runyon. That they are seeing some pages from the remarkable life of a very remarkable fellow. Remember the film titled "The Jolson Story"? Suppose Crosby had played Jolson. It would have been more confusing than convincing. Larry Parks, then practically unknown, played Jolson and the result was one of the most moving of moving pictures of all time.

ASIDES

In what state can be found the most amateur fishermen? It must be Minnesota. In that state, which points with pride to its possession of 10,000 lakes, more than 50 per cent of the population have fishing licenses. . . . A New Englander, the mother of seven daughters, named them all after flowers as follows: Rose, Acacia, Daisy, Violet, Lily, Mignonette and Marigold. Of these names, I like Mignonette the best and Daisy the least.

Here are a few: a pork pie raiser, chucker-outer, bluebottle breeder, hare controller, skeleton beater, wrinkle washer, sagger maker's bottom knocker, haggis mixer, ship's husband, brandy snap curler, and a wuzzer.

These are real occupations, mind you! A pork pie raiser, for instance, is a cook of sorts and a wrinkle washer works in a fish establishment. For further information, you'll have to contact Eamonn Andrews, care of BBC, London.

Rearing Children, 100 Years Ago And Today

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

"Cost what it may, break the child down to obedience to the first command. If you are careful never to let disobedience escape effective punishment, you will find it not difficult to maintain your absolute authority."

I wonder how many modern children would go for this philosophy of spare the rod and spoil the child.

The late great pediatrician, Dr. L. Emmett Holt, referred to the newborn infant as "a reflex animal." Various reflexes are present at birth, including sucking, coughing, sneezing, and crying.

Another is the startle reflex, which also is called the embrace reflex. When the infant is startled he throws back his head, extends his arms, stiffens his legs, and contorts his face into a grimace. After a few seconds he brings his arms together into an embrace, hence the name. This type of reflex usually disappears as the child grows, but while it lasts, parents who are unfamiliar with the reaction may have some anxious moments.

An English physician on his way to work was intrigued by the sight of a mother and child sitting opposite him on the tram. Mom was tight-lipped and held her head high staring into space. The boy was enveloped from head to waist in a large pillow case. From time to time, a hollow distant voice asked, "Are we there yet, Ma?"

The pair got off at the same station and started into the infirmary where the physician worked. Later he was called in to witness the tragedy. The house surgeon and nurse were looking hard to free what looked like a space helmet from the lad's head. The object turned out to be one still used in England where bathrooms are not as plentiful as in America. When the emergency was over, the mother shrugged her shoulders and muttered, "He was playing at soldiers."

STOMACH HERNIA

R. Y. writes: Is hernia of the stomach caused by overeating all the time?

REPLY

No. In the majority of cases a congenital defect is responsible. In some instances the esophagus (gullet) is too short and pulls the upper part of the stomach up through the diaphragm. In other cases, the opening through which the esophagus passes through the diaphragm is too large and the stomach moves upward when the individual is lying down.

POLIO VACCINE FOLLOW-UP

D. R. writes: Will children who had three polio shots in 1956 have to take them again in 1957?

REPLY

This point has not been settled although it was predicted originally that a booster dose might be needed every year. The answer will come when it is determined how long the present immunity will last. If the protective level begins to fail, as shown by blood tests, a booster shot will be in order.

CRACKED SKIN

Mrs. G. writes: Why does the skin on my fingers split in the winter time? They are O. K. in hot weather.

REPLY

There are various causes but cold and dryness are high on the list. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on skin cracks.

TOMORROW: Controlling rabies.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accorded. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Martinez Wins Over Gavilan

Verdict Is Greeted By Boos And Cheers

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 26 (AP)—Staggered in the third round by a right to the jaw, crisp-punching Vince Martinez of Paterson, N.J., came from behind tonight to outpoint former welterweight champion Kid Gavilan of Cuba in a close 10-rounder at Newark Armory.

A near capacity crowd of 8,327 greeted the verdict with a mixture of boos and cheers.

Referee Joe Harrison, the only official under New Jersey rules, had Martinez the winner by 6-3-1, the AP card had the fight even 5-5.

Martinez, fourth ranking contender, was a 3-1 favorite, he weighed 149½, Gavilan 148½.

It was the fifth straight victory for Martinez, who is aiming for a crack at welterweight king Carmen Basilio. It was Gavilan's third straight defeat and his fourth loss in his last five fights.

Referee Harrison gave Martinez the first, second, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth rounds. He awarded the third and ninth and 10th to the 31-year old Cuban and called the fourth even.

The AP card had Martinez winning the second round and the fifth through the eighth with Gavilan getting the others.

It was Newark's first major fight in more than 3½ years and the near capacity crowd, which paid $35,920, cheered the spirited and close scrap all the way.

A poll of writers at the ringside showed 11 had Gavilan the winner with only four for Martinez. Two had it even.

Gavilan, displaying only flashes of the fire that earned him the title, almost put the counter-punching Martinez away in the third. In an exchange of blows, the Cuban nailed Vince flush on the jaw. Martinez' legs wobbled and he grabbed on to the Kid desperately.

Valley Tops Northern In Extra Heat

Black Knights Cop Overtime Thriller At Home, 72 To 68

LONACONING, Feb. 27—Valley High School's Black Knights, co-champions of the W.M.I. League and Allegany County Class "B" champions, were forced to plan an overtime period here this afternoon before they conquered Northern High School's Huskies, Garrett county's Class "B" champions in a 72-68 battle.

Northern was leading 67-65 with 30 seconds remaining in the regulation game when Billy Dye's field goal knotted the count for the eighth time (67-67) and sent the battle into an extra period.

Feldiers for Ronnie Young and Dave Cook settled the issue in Valley's favor in the overtime stanza. Foul goals by Ronald Glass of Northern and Cook of Valley concluded the scoring.

During the regulation battle the score was knotted at 14, 15, 17, 19, 23, 63, 65 and 67 and the lead changed hands eleven times. Valley jumped off to a 6-0 lead at the start of the game and Huskies held a 10-point advantage at 43-33 in the third period. In the final period the lead changed hands nine times.

Valley played without the services of Johnny Johnson, one of Knight's top scorers. He has not fully recovered from an ankle injury he suffered in the recent playoff game with Mt. Savage.

Young paced Valley in today's thriller with 14 field goals and 31 points. George Lauder garnered 14. Darwin Robeson was Northern's "big gun" with 11 baskets and 24 markers. Ward Humberston had 16, Tom Schroyer 15 and Dick Spear 12.

Lawmakers Feel Baseball Is Subject To Antitrust Laws

Celler, Hillings Will Press For Legislation To Remove Immunity

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (INS)—A new drive developed in congress today to bring organized baseball under the anti-trust laws in line with the Supreme Court decision that pro football is covered by the monopoly statutes.

Reps. Emanuel Celler (D) N. Y., and Patrick Hillings (R) Calif., said they will press for legislation to remove the anti-trust immunity granted to baseball in previous Supreme Court rulings.

At stake are both baseball's and football's controversial "reserve clause" which binds players to one team and the National Football League's annual "draft" of college stars.

The supreme court, in a 6 to 3 decision Monday, ordered trial of ex-Detroit Lion tackle Bill Radovich's $105,000 treble-damage suit against the football league. Radovich claimed the league blacklisted him after he jumped to the old All-American Conference in 1946.

Express Resentment
Pro football officials expressed resentment and surprise, claiming that baseball was being given preferential treatment. Baseball spokesmen, including Commissioner Ford Frick, took a hands-off attitude.

In the senate, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D) Tenn., ordered a staff study of the anti-trust status of various professional sports by his anti-monopoly subcommittee.

Rep. Kenneth Keating (R) N. Y., urged a congressional investigation of what he called "high-handed practices and criminal elements" in pro football.

However, Keating disagreed with Celler and Hillings, his colleagues on the house judiciary committee, about baseball. He said congress ought to "keep its nose out of baseball."

Celler, who conducted a congressional investigation of baseball in 1951, called the football decision "proper" and that baseball should likewise be brought under the anti-monopoly laws.

He said that if football is a business, then baseball also is a business. The Supreme Court ruled in 1922, and reaffirmed in 1953, that baseball was not a business engaged in interstate commerce.

Refers To Cartel
Hillings said that he believes professional baseball is a business and will be so declared if a new test case is brought before the supreme court. He offered a bill to cover baseball.

The Californian declared: "the passage of my bill will break up the horseshoe cartel which has allowed a small group of men to dominate and control America's national pastime."

Hillings said that this has prevented the West Coast and other sections of the nation from obtaining major league baseball franchises.

Marion Buys Lakers, Plans Shift To KC

Marty May Move Club After March 13

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—Marty Marion, former major league baseball player and manager, conditionally purchased the pro basketball franchise of the Minneapolis Lakers today. But he will have to wait until March 13 to learn whether he can move the club to Kansas City.

President Ben Berger of the Lakers, five-time champions of the National Basketball Assn., agreed to the deal with the provision that it could be called off if any Minneapolis purchaser should meet the $150,000 selling price by March 13.

Berger, who has expressed a preference for keeping the club in Minneapolis, said it was doubtful that Minneapolis interests could raise that amount before the deadline.

Marion, who has been negotiating for an NBA franchise for about a month, wants to put a team in Kansas City. But even if he goes in there with the Laker franchise or some other team, NBA governors decided today that the club will not have a territorial claim on Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain.

Warriors To Get Stilt
The governors discussed that situation again today and reaffirmed that Chamberlain, high-scoring Kansas University sophomore, will become the property of the Philadelphia Warriors when he goes into professional basketball.

The Warriors exercised a territorial choice for him when he still was in a Philadelphia high school. Under NBA rules, each team is allowed to pick one player from its immediate geographical territory before the regular draft procedure begins each year.

Berger, who has been operating the Lakers at a loss ever since George Mikan retired as a player, announced the conditional sale today after a conference with Marion, his backer Milton Fischmann and NBA President Maurice Podoloff.

Attendance Falls Off
It was Mikan who led Minneapolis to league championships in 1949, 1950, 1952, 1953 and 1954. Since his retirement, attendance has fallen off and this year's crowds have been the worst in the team's history.

Marion, former star shortstop of the St. Louis Cardinals and manager of the Cardinals, St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox, has indicated he will continue to seek an NBA franchise for Kansas City if the deal for the Lakers falls through.

Syracuse Is Named NCAA At-Large Entry

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (INS)—Syracuse University was named today as an eastern at-large entry in the NCAA's national collegiate basketball tournament.

Lew Andreas, athletic director at Syracuse who doubles in brass as the head of the eastern selection committee, announced his school's appearance in the NCAA tournament for the first time in its history.

Syracuse (14-5) will appear in an opening round triple header at Madison Square Garden on March 12. The Orange team joins Canisius as at-large entries in the east. One eastern at-large berth remains open.

A Cincinnati-to-Tampa baseball excursion is being planned for Redleg fans. It takes off March 25 for the Redlegs' training base in Florida and returns March 31.

Giants Swap Hoyt Wilhelm For Lockman

Latter Was Traded To Cards Last June

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 26 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals today traded first baseman-outfielder Whitey Lockman to the New York Giants in exchange for relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm. It was a straight player deal with no cash involved.

Lockman thus returns to the Giants. He was traded to the St. Louis club last June 14 in the deal that brought Red Schoendienst to New York and shortstop Al Dark to St. Louis.

He was the regular first baseman for the Giants in both their recent pennant winning years, 1951 and 1954.

Lockman, 30, hit .260 in 118 games last season. Wilhelm, 33, won 4 games and lost 9 in 1956 while pitching in 64 games. He joined the Giants in 1952, winning 15 and losing 3 games and compiling the circuit's best earned run average, 2.43.

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 26 (AP)—Del. Edward R. Milancy (D-Balto 1st) had the answer today to the concern of some Maryland legislators over the trend to race horses in the winter.

Build an indoor track, he urged in a resolution. Then fans could go to the races all year in comfort then, he said.

The horses started racing Feb. 12 in Maryland this year and it will be the middle of December before they finish.

Burglars Get $12,000 In Basketball Funds

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 26 (AP)—Burglars made off with approximately $12,000 last night after breaking open a safe in the University of Kentucky athletic department.

Athletic Director Bernie Shively said the loot represented receipts from last night's Kentucky-Auburn basketball game and from sale of tickets for the NCAA regional tournament here March 15-16.

Shively said the loss was partly covered by insurance. Allie Reynolds, Jr., son of the former Yankee star, is out for the University of Oklahoma baseball team.

Generals Fire Football Coach

Chipley Was W. & L. Mentor Two Seasons

LEXINGTON, Va., Feb. 26 (AP)—Washington and Lee University today fired the first football coach it hired two years ago under an athletic de-emphasis program.

Relieved of his duties as head grid coach was Bill Chipley, a former All-Southern end for W&L whose teams have won 1 out of 15 games in the past two seasons.

Chipley turned down a bid by the trustees to remain as a member of the physical education faculty.

University President Francis P. Gaines said the decision to relieve Chipley was made by the board of trustees at a Jan. 26 meeting in Washington. The trustees also turned down pleas from student body officers and alumni to return to a program of subsidization.

Chipley said he would remain at the school until the end of the current school year when he will resign all his duties, provided he has found another job. If unsuccessful in his job hunt, he will remain until his present appointment expires Sept. 1, 1957.

Washington and Lee did not have a varsity football team in 1954. Since that time it has been playing under a non-subsidization program.

Voyaging Scores At Bowie, Jockey LeBlanc Is Fined

BOWIE, Md., Feb. 26 (AP)—Voyaging, a 4-year-old filly, and Jockey Harold Keene teamed up in the featured Glen Burnie Purse at Bowie Race Course today and brought off an upset victory at $19.40 to $2.

Sporting the silks of Mrs. Donaldson Christmas, of Upper Marlboro, Md., Voyaging rushed the 5 1/2 furlongs in 1:06 4/5 on a sloppy track.

Voyaging, a daughter of Golden Voyage and Cavorting, won by a length and a quarter from Legal Larceny with Button Bill, the early leader, faltering to third and Colonel Tim finishing fourth.

Just prior to the Glen Burnie Purse, stewards announced that Jockey Roger LeBlanc has been fined $50 for making a frivolous foul claim in yesterday's last race.

Some 9,518 fans attended in today's light, steady rain.

On The Line

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (INS)—The popularity in the nation's capital of youthful Spanish ambassador Jose Maria Arellano, a man of letters, is symbolic of America's recent discovery that hard-working, militantly anti-Communist, strategically placed nation.

Arellano, a lawyer-industrialist, author — war hero and former mayor (at 26) of Bilbao, looks like a recently retired matador and moves about Washington with a speed that would dismay his siesta-taking ancestors. He is trusted and admired by our top people. They have sought his counsel on matters as pertinent to today's front pages as the length of the great runways Spanish engineers and workers are completing for our Strategic Air Command at record low cost to U. S. taxpayers.

They seek his thinking, too, on the pending question of Spain's entrance into NATO. As of today, 35 members of the House of Representatives have introduced resolutions urging the Eisenhower administration to propose Spain for membership. There are two Senate resolutions along the same line, introduced by Senators Bridges and Wiley and bearing the names of 31 additional members of the Upper House. These congressmen feel that NATO needs new blood as much as the U. S. needs Spanish air and naval bases — especially now that Britain and several other countries are of a mind to withdraw in part from full participation in the alliance.

Spain, and therefore its spokesman in this country, also looms large in the healing of the raw wounds of the Middle East. Spain, occupied for 700 years by the Moors, enjoys unique popularity and trust in the Arab world. One of the first calls King Saud made upon arriving in Washington was to Ambassador Arellano. It was noted too, that Saud flew directly from the U. S. to Madrid to see his friend Franco on the way that will lead to home.

In view of these events it is

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass 1 heart Pass 3 hearts
Pass 4 hearts Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ten of spades.

One of the marks of the true competitor at the bridge table is the quality of "never say die." The most hopeless contracts have been brought home by playing the cards out to the bitter end on the chance of a defensive error.

In today's adventure, South became declarer at a contract of four hearts, on an uneventful auction.

West opened the ten of spades, which was taken by the ace. The ace and king of trumps were cashed, and declarer was disappointed when the suit failed to break.

It appeared now that he would have to win two diamond tricks if he were to fulfill the contract, inasmuch as a trump trick and a club had to be surrendered.

To hope that East had both the ace and the queen of diamonds was a little too sanguine, especially in view of his silence during the auction. Declarer set about to obtain a little assistance from the enemy, to allow for the likelihood that diamonds would not be favorably distributed.

He first ruffed dummy's remaining spade and then cashed the two high clubs. West was now given the lead with a trump and he quite properly cashed the queen of clubs. He did not consider leading another spade, knowing that declarer would thus receive a ruff and sluff.

At long last, hoping that partner had either the king or the jack of diamonds, West led the ace and another, and the story had been told. South had availed himself of West's momentary lapse.

As in many cases of this kind, the simple expedient of counting to 13 would have kept West free from harm. Declarer was known to have had five hearts, four clubs, and one spade. He had therefore, exactly three diamonds, no more, no less. Even a ruff and a discard would not enable him to fulfill contract if West would just wait for his two diamond tricks.

When West chooses to lead a diamond, he should select a low one. If East has the king, three more tricks will be cashed. If South happens to have the king, West will just wait patiently for the last two tricks.

Information Filed Against Minter

A criminal information charging Oliver E. Minter of Baltimore with obtaining $52,26 nearly five years ago by cashing a fraudulent check was filed Monday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher charged in the information that on or about September 20, 1952, Minter obtained a pair of trousers and jacket valued at $14.50 and $37.76 in money by cashing a fraudulent check for $52.26 at a Nationwide Clothes store here.

Minter was brought to Cumberland February 7 after his release from the Federal Penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga. He had just finished a sentence on a federal charge. Minter filed a petition in Circuit Court February 13 requesting an immediate trial.

The state's attorney's office said that Minter obtained nearly $400 here in September 1952 by cashing eight fraudulent checks.

Fire Destroys 4 Buildings In Parsons

2 Firemen Hurt As Flames Sweep Walnut Street

Fire which may have been caused by lightning destroyed four buildings in the business section of Parsons, W. Va., last night, damaged eight others, and injured three persons before being brought under control.

John Kenney, fire chief and mayor of Parsons, said all of the destroyed buildings were on the west side of Walnut Street.

The fire was discovered at 9:20 p. m. in the Leo Goss appliance store, a 40-by-100-foot frame building, as an unseasonal electrical storm was passing over the Tucker County seat town.

Flames quickly spread to an unoccupied building which formerly housed a bowling alley, and to the Blackwood Florist Shop and a dwelling behind the florist shop. All of the buildings were leveled.

Three adjacent buildings—a furniture store, a grocery, and an unoccupied building—were badly damaged. Intense heat damaged five buildings across the street, setting afire the roofs of the Greenleaf Funeral Home and another building, and melting windows in all five.

Tops of parking meters along the street also were melted by the heat.

Several families, not immediately identified, were left homeless, and the fire caused a power failure which left the town in complete darkness until 11 p. m.

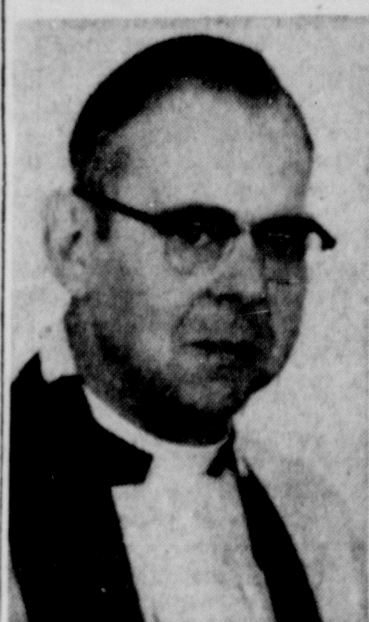

The Parsons-Elkins basketball game was interrupted when the lights went out with Parsons ahead 55-48 and two minutes to play.

Mr. Goss was treated for shock at Tucker County Hospital, and Assistant Fire Chief Cover Jolley and Fireman Bruce Whetzel were treated at the hospital after they were cut by broken glass.

Firemen from Thomas, Davis and Elkins helped put out the fire.

Dystrophy Drive Citations Will Be Presented Friday

A number of local residents, the Cumberland Fire Department, and volunteer fire companies of Allegany and Garrett counties as well as local industries and service clubs will receive recognition on Friday evening for their work in the recent muscular dystrophy campaign.

REV. G. STANLEY SCHWIND

Rev. Schwind Accepts Call To Baltimore

Rev. G. Stanley Schwind, rector of St. George's Church, Mt. Savage, submitted his resignation to the vestry at a special meeting on Sunday, stating that he had accepted a call to become the rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Baltimore.

Upon acceptance of the resignation, a committee was appointed consisting of C. Raymond Yutzy, chairman, Raymond Himmelfright, Raymond Neder and Colin C. Bowers, to consult with the Bishop in regard to securing a new rector.

In submitting his resignation the rector stated, "I have no particular reason to leave Mt. Savage except that I feel that I am faced with a greater challenge—that of salvaging one of Baltimore's largest and most beautiful Episcopal churches as a witness for Christ in the community wherein it now stands."

A native of Baltimore, Father Schwind received his secondary education at the Baltimore City College and was graduated from Carroll College, Waukegan, Wis., where he was awarded his bachelor of arts degree in 1942. He received his theological training at the Nashotah Seminary, Nashotah, Wis., from which he was graduated in 1945, and had the bachelor of Divinity degree conferred upon him by the same school in 1956 upon completion of a thesis on hymnology.

He was ordained both deacon and priest by Rt. Rev. Noble C. Powell in Baltimore in 1945 and became the assistant to Emmanuel Episcopal Church and vicar of St. Philip's Chapel here in the same year. In 1947 he accepted the rectorship of St. James Church, Westernport, where he remained for four and a half years. During this time he was active in civic affairs and was dean of the Convocation of Cumberland.

In 1951 he went to Mt. Savage to become rector of St. George's Church. He is presently a member of the executive council and chairman of the Commission on Church Music in the Diocese of Maryland and is a delegate to the Provincial Synod of the third province of the Episcopal Church.

He will assume his new duties on May 1 and will reside at the clergy house on the parish grounds.

There will be a discussion of plans for this year's fair, as well as suggestions and questions by those in attendance.

Fair Workers Meet Planned

The annual meeting of Cumberland Fair Association workers will be held tomorrow evening at LaVale Fire Hall.

A dinner which will precede the meeting will begin at 6:30 p. m. Harry J. Barton, manager of the Association, will preside at the meeting.

Some 50 workers, including exhibit entry clerks, extension and officials of the 4-H Clubs and FFA, have been sent invitations.

There will be a discussion of plans for this year's fair, as well as suggestions and questions by those in attendance.

Highway Bill Leaves Friend 'Speechless'

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 26 (AP)—Sen. Friend (R-Garrett), who once described himself as the "stubbornest and stingiest man" in the Senate, also turned out today to be speechless.

Rising during a debate on a bill to raise the speed limit from 55 to 60 m.p.h. on certain dual-lane highways, the Garrett County senator said:

"I probably don't have anything to say about this bill."

Laughter.

"So," he concluded, "I'll just sit down again."

He did.

Fog Envelops Area Following All-Day Rain

A dense fog enveloped the tri-state area last night following yesterday's all-day rainfall, making highway travel extremely hazardous.

Robert R. Golden, local weather observer at Constitution Park, said the fog, which was hanging about 200 feet in the air dropped suddenly last night about 6 o'clock as a cooler air mass moved into the area.

State police in West Virginia and Pennsylvania reported heavy fog layers throughout the area, adding that traffic was very light on the major highways.

Maryland State Police at LaVale noted that the fog was delaying traffic in Garrett County west of Frostburg and east of Cumberland on the mountain ranges.

Yesterday's rainfall was recorded at 0.67 inches and the high temperature was 55 and the low 47. Today will be somewhat cooler with possible snow flurries.

Club Meets Tonight

The City Recreation Badminton Club meets tonight from 7 to 10 o'clock in Fort Hill High School gymnasium.

The activity is being enjoyed by many adult players this winter. All equipment, including rackets and balls, is furnished free by the Recreation Department.

Pinto Bridge Bill Planned By Legislators

State And Federal Aid To Be Sought

Plans to seek state and federal aid toward the construction of a new bridge across the Potomac river at Pinto and the elimination of two grade crossings on the road to the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, were made at a meeting yesterday in Annapolis.

Arranged by State Senator Charles M. See, the meeting was attended by all Allegany County legislators, officials of Allegany County and the State Roads Commission and a representative of the plant operated for the Navy by the Hercules Powder Company.

Adopted was a three-way approach to the construction program, according to Senator See:

1. Robert O. Bonnell, chairman of the State Roads Commission, was asked to confer with Governor McKeldin to see if funds for the bridge may be included in the current Capital Improvements Bill.

2. Senator See and the Allegany County Delegation will sponsor a bill directing State Roads Commission to take title to the bridge.

3. Committee Named

Del. Lester B. Reed, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation, House Minority Leader George R. Hughes Jr., and Sen. See were named as a committee to seek federal aid on the projects.

In the federal approach, the legislators plan to confer with Senators J. Glenn Beall and John Marshall Butler, Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde of Maryland, and Rep. Harley O. Staggers of West Virginia.

The federal legislators, Sen. See said, will be asked to confer with Navy authorities and seek help on the project which is needed for the operation of the laboratory.

Sen. See said that if federal funds are made available, it would be possible to build a new bridge and eliminate two railroad crossings in connection with a new interchange of the Pinto Road with Route 230.

Conference Planned

Del. Hughes immediately contacted Senator Beall, who reported he hoped to arrange an early conference.

Letters from the Ballistics Laboratory and the Allegany County Commissioners were read at the hearing, and the position of the plant was explained by Joseph Woodward, chief engineer for the Ballistics plant.

Sen. See explained that the bridge has been owned by the county since about 1943, when it and the Luke-Piedmont bridges were turned over to the county in connection with county-SRC road exchanges.

He said he believes all interstate bridges should be owned by the state but that the damage is done. The transfer was not approved by any of the present county commissioners, he added.

It was explained that the bridge cannot be built under the SRC's 12-year program, since it was not in the original plan and is not now a part of the state road system.

Road Is Improved

Senator See said the bridge is in bad shape and inadequate for the heavy traffic and loads it must bear.

He said the Short Gap Road, which ends at the bridge, is being modernized and relocated at a greater distance from the plant to conform with federal regulations.

The additional traffic expected from the improved road, officials said, will further complicate the traffic problem at the one-way B & O underpass and the one-way bridge.

Representing Allegany County were all commissioners, J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, and James Stevenson, clerk to the commissioners.

Also attending were Mayor Joseph James, Frostburg, and Albert Grubb, chief bridge engineer for the Roads Commission.

TWUA Plans Installation

Newly elected officers of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union, will be installed at a meeting today at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall.

Hugh Brown, Washington, TWUA international representative, will officiate at the ceremony to be held in connection with a general membership meeting.

John G. Thomas will be installed as president; Thomas F. Powers, vice president; Charles F. Davis, secretary-treasurer; Robert Blair, Lillian Burch, Joseph Barley, Floyd Grady, Walter Mahoney and Ira McBride, Executive Board; Robert Jones, James McGinn, Carl Sherman, John Small and Earl Walker, Board of Trustees, and Francis Harvey, warden.

Scout Troop To Reactivate

Girl Scout Troop 20, sponsored by Emmanuel Guild of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, is being reactivated.

An organizational meeting was held Monday night at the home of Mrs. J. Henry Holzshu. Four leaders and five intermediate Girl Scouts in the 13-14 age groups attended.

The leaders are Miss Carolyn Bowie, Miss Laura Johnson, Mrs. A. D. Darby Jr., and Mrs. Holzshu. The girls included Virginia Holzshu, Janet Hammer, Marie Naughton, Donna Trent and Katherine Shaffer.

Members of the troop fulfilled requirements toward journalism and tree badges. They rehearsed a hiking song which will be sung at the Girl Scout dinner March 14 at St. Mary's Hall and made plans to make their own skirts to wear to that dinner.

Another meeting will be held at 7:15 p. m. next Monday at the home of Miss Bowie, 723 Washington Street.

Damage Suit Settled Here

A damage suit in which the plaintiffs sought $3,000 in the death of a Cumberland serviceman has been settled in Allegany County Circuit Court with the plaintiffs being awarded $1,500.

The suit was filed by the State of Maryland for the use of Erika Markey, widow, Barbara Ann and Susan Erika Markey, infant children of M-Sgt. John J. Markey, deceased, against George H. Silverman, 6540 Bartlett Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

According to the declaration M-Sgt. Markey, of the Army, was operating his car west on U. S. Route 40 near Hagerstown on October 12 of 1956.

The defendant, operating a stake body truck in the opposite direction in a careless and reckless manner struck the Markey car and demolished it. Markey was killed as a result of the accident.

The state or use of the equitable plaintiffs brought suit for $3,000 and a settlement of $1,500 was reached.

Sgt. Curtis Kime Subject Of Article In Leatherneck

M-Sgt. Curtis M. Kime, well known here as a member of the Cumberland Police Force now on duty with the Marine Corps, is the subject of an article in the current issue of "Leatherneck," Marine Corps magazine.

Sgt. Kime is the last enlisted man still on active duty with the Marines who served in combat in France in World War I. He fought at St. Mihiel, Mont Blanc Ridge, Verdun and Belleau Wood, where the Marines stopped the German drive to Paris.

The French government later renamed the wood after the Marines who fought and died, to take and hold it. For this and other actions, it is recalled, the Marine Brigade was presented the French Fourragere which Sgt. Kime still wears.

Sgt. Kime was wounded twice before the Armistice was signed. When World War II began, he volunteered for active duty and was again called to active duty during the Korean Conflict. He served in the German occupation, did a stint in Santo Domingo, and had various other duty with the Corps. Between wars, he became well known here as a member of the local police force, where he also holds the rank of sergeant.

LaSalle High School Plans To Mark 50th Anniversary

By CHARLES H. KELLY News Staff Writer

LaSalle High School, located in Carroll Hall on North Centre Street, marks its golden anniversary this year.

Leafing through the history of the school, Brother G. Paulian FSC, principal since September 1955, learned that on September 9, 1907, some 28 youths reported for the first class at LaSalle Institute, corner of Fayette and Smallwood streets.

After an examination, the boys were divided into two classes, and soon their better grading made the formation of a third class necessary.

The original student body was comprised of 26 boys from Cumberland, one from Mt. Savage and the other from Frostburg. Within two years' time, the school became so well known for its work that the enrollment had doubled.

And since the small building, which was used both as a school and home for the teaching brothers, could not accommodate adequately the large number of students, the Laing residence on the southwest corner of Smallwood and Fayette streets was procured and in September 1909 the new quarters were occupied.

First Faculty

The school's first director was Brother Edmund, and during the first year his community consisted of Brothers Maurice and Felician.

LaSalle got its start at the annual convention of the Catholic Federation of Allegany County in Cumberland September 2, 1906, when it was resolved that steps be taken to establish a Christian Brothers School in the county.

On October 14 that year the federation named a committee of five to secure the approval of the Cardinal to establish a high school for boys in Cumberland, and to make inquiries as to what arrangements could be made with the Christian Brothers or some other teaching order of men to educate the youth of the county.

Thomas B. Kenny was president at the time, A. L. Will was secretary, and the committee members were James P. Gaffney and William E. Walsh, city, J. J. Byrnes, Eckhart, E. R. Grant, Midland, and Thomas W. Gocke, Westernport.

The Institute was opened under the auspices of the federation in September 1907. Brothers Aggus Victor and George Sixtus were sent here by Brother Visitor to prepare and furnish the house situated at the northwest corner of Fayette and Smallwood streets.

One Member Remains

One member of the original graduating class of 1910 is now living. He is Attorney Edward J. Ryan. Others in that graduating class were Raymond J. Kean and his brother, D. William Kean, a cousin, Thomas A. Kean, and Joseph J. Snyder.

Governor Vetoes Bill Repealing Car Tag Boosts

Says Road Program Would Be Damaged

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 26 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today vetoed a bill which would have repealed scheduled registration fee increases for Maryland motor vehicles.

He said the bill could cause "irreparable damage" to Maryland's 12-year roads program since the increases were planned as part of the program's financing.

The action at a bill signing late this afternoon signalled the first open clash this session between the Republican administration and the Democratic controlled Legislature.

"You're a courageous man," governor," Senate President Goldstein (D-Calvert) remarked as McKeldin stamped the bill "vetoed." "You'll have this bill back tomorrow."

"Not courageous, just honest," McKeldin replied with a smile.

Can Override Veto

The bill to keep scheduled increases of $5 to $7 for automobile license plates and up to $500 for truck fees from going into effect passed both houses by thumping margins.

The Senate cleared it 29-0 early in the session.

The House approved it 95-7 after Majority Floor Leader Nease (D-Baltimore County) issued a party call for Democrats to get behind it.

The size of both votes left little doubt that the veto could be overridden.

McKeldin had indicated in a statement issued before the House passed the bill that he might veto it. He said although he had agreed with the Legislature on a year-to-year postponement of the boosts, "I cannot endorse the proposal to repeal the 1953 fee increase law."

Bus Contract Session Set

A report on contract negotiations with the Cumberland Transit Lines was presented to the membership of Local 1110, Bus Drivers Union, early this morning.

James Morrison, president of the union, said last night the negotiating committee would also seek directions from members on further action.

He said the company and the union met yesterday but made no progress toward a new contract and that another meeting is scheduled today at 10 a. m.

Charles McCaffrey, international vice president of the union, is assisting in the contract negotiations.

The current contract is due to expire Thursday at midnight.

George Is Low On Bridge Bid

The George Construction Company was low bidder on a contract to build a three-span concrete bridge and approaches on Maryland Route 51 over Evitts Creek near the eastern limits of Cumberland.

The bids were opened yesterday at noon by the State Roads Commission in Baltimore. The low bid was for $370,478 for the bridge on Oldtown Road. It will be a three-span pre-stressed concrete structure, 153 feet long with two roadways, each 34 feet wide, with a 16-foot-wide median strip.

The only other bidder on the project was the George F. Hazelwood Company, also of Cumberland, for $380,638.

The bridge eventually will be tied in with the industrial boulevard to be constructed in South Cumberland. The boulevard will bring Route 51 into Cumberland on a new location and bids for the first portion, 1.83 miles from the eastern limits of the city to Vancouver Street, are expected to be let later this year.

Baron Invited To Serve On Md. Juvenile Group

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 26 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today invited Juvenile Court Judge Morris Baron of Allegany County to serve on a state commission for prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquency.

The commission was established last summer under the chairmanship of Thomas J. S. Waxter, director of the State Welfare Department.

McKeldin said he was "very pleased" to invite the Cumberland jurist to serve on the commission "because of your concern over civic matters and for children in particular."

"I know that your experience in the life of your community will be most helpful in the undertaking," the governor said.
